SUMMARY

Driven by an insatiable passion for web development, I am Jeremiah Ranen, a dedicated professional with a flair for crafting immersive digital experiences. I am currently pursuing my Bachelor's degree in Artificial Intelligence and Data Science from KPR Institute of Engineering and Technology. I possess a solid foundation in cutting-edge technologies and their practical applications in the digital realm. I am currently seeking for an opportunity to leverage my learnings. Beyond my technical prowess, I bring to the table a collaborative spirit and strong communication skills, enabling me to seamlessly integrate with cross-functional teams and build user friendly solutions.
